Conclusive Answer	05/06/2023 12:19	Dear Sir/Madam, In response to your request, and based on the information provided by the Controlled Products Management (GPCON), the technical area responsible for the matter in question, registered in the Anvisa Service System - SAT, Protocol No. 2023121893, we would like to inform you that Psilocibe cubensis is a species of mushroom whose composition includes the substances psilocybin and psilocin, both of which are banned in Brazil because they are classified on List F2 (List of psychotropic substances banned in Brazil) of Annex I of Ordinance SVS/MS No. 344/1998. There are no notifications of the substances psilocybin, psilocin and psilocibe in the databases used by the Pharmacovigilance Management - GFARM. We would like to inform you that the National Health Surveillance Agency has made available on its website, the Pharmacovigilance Notification Panel, which can be freely accessed via the following link https://www.gov.br/anvisa/pt-br/acessoainformacao/dadosabertos/informacoes-analytics/notifications-of-pharmacovigilance. In this panel, data on suspected adverse events related to the use of medicines can be consulted by citizens. The dashboard allows the public to access information on spontaneous notifications of suspected adverse drug and vaccine events received by Anvisa through VigiMed since December 2018, when the system was implemented. The data received in the VigiMed system can also be accessed through Brazilian Open Data Portal, available at https://dados.gov.br/dados/conjuntos-dados/notificacoes-em-farmacovigilancia. The notification data is presented in anonymously, without including personal data or data that could identify a person, in compliance with the provisions of the Access to Information Law (Law 12.527/2011) and the General Personal Data Protection Law (Law 13.709/2018). In compliance with the provisions of art. 11, § 4, of Law 12.527/11, we inform you that the applicant may file an appeal on Fala.BR - Integrated Platform for Ombudsman and Access to Information, within 10 (ten) days of receiving the decision, which will be evaluated by the General Management for Monitoring Products Subject to Sanitary Surveillance (GGMON). For further clarification, Anvisa also offers its Call Center, on 0800 642 9782 (working days, from 7:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.) and electronically, at Fale Conosco: (http://www.anvisa.gov.br/institucional/faleconosco/FaleConosco.asp) Sincerely, Agency National Health Surveillance	Access Granted
